Positive Parenting Program (Triple-P) and Family Intervention Services!

Between Shirlene “Dr. Scoop” and Ken “Dr. Coop” Coopwood, there are more than 35 years of experience with child and family intervention and services.

Dr. S. Coopwood began her career as a high school Math and Science teacher. Her passion for helping youth holistically, beyond academics, was ignited, and she began her counseling journey. She has worked across family service sectors throughout her career, serving as a school counselor, social service administrator, and on state and national boards related to children’s behavioral health, child welfare, and juvenile justice. She served as a Guardian Ad Litem for twelve years in Greensboro, NC. Her footprint extends beyond the state level to Belize, where she had a rich career in youth and family service. She is a Nationally Certified Counselor, Mental Health Facilitator, Master Trainer, Mental Health First AID Instructor, and Certified in Effective College Teaching. As a tenured Counseling Educator, Dr. “SCoop,” as youth and families affectionately call her, instructs the next generation of counselors for the state of North Carolina.

Dr. K. Coopwood began working with peer youth at fourteen in Gary, Indiana, and was a supervisory trainee within the Gary Manpower Project. His love for service to individuals grew from this experience, as did his work with his family throughout the city on residential restoration projects. His early-career work focused on family education planning, youth development, mentoring, and life skills. His interest in holistic education afforded him a dual career as an intervention consultant and program facilitator while serving as an administrator in higher education. He has worked in nationally recognized family and youth prevention programs, including Youth For Tomorrow, Strengthening Families, and Brother to Brother, since 2005. He is now a Positive Parenting Program (Triple P) Practitioner working with partners in state, county, and local administrations to build system capacity to strengthen families.

“Dr. SCoop” and “Dr. Coop” make a warm and competent team of approachable, spiritual, and family-oriented experts. They are active community members serving the local women’s shelter, parents, and young men in Mecklenburg County. Both are committed to the belief that
